DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Response to Amendment

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 07026212 A either individually, or in view of JP 11021519 A, substantially for the reasons set forth in section 4 of Paper No. 3, together with the following additional observations.

With respect to Applicant's amendment to limit the hydrogenated styrene/butadiene copolymer as the type of a random copolymer, the Examiner takes Official notice that it is well known that both block or random copolymer of styrene/butadiene are suitable as pressure and function equivalently for protective film application, and it is within the ordinary skill of the art to substitute one for another. Note also as evidence the state of the art EP 203425A (Derwent Abstract), which teaches that a tie layer for polyolefin layers may be a random block, diblock or triblock of styrene and butadiene copolymer. It should be noted that a random block copolymer inherently encompasses a random copolymer.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In addition, the following references are cited of interest for making automotive protective film:

JP 408012956A (Abstract)

JP 410176148A (Abstract)

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
